Students are placed in classes at the Director's discretion. Certain classes Students are placed in classes at the Director's discretion. Certain classes have prerequisites. Most classes have an age range of two or more years. This means sometimes students are at the younger end of the scale, sometimes they are at the older end of the scale within the same class. This is an important part of learning the performing arts for all students. All classes are customized to the students enrolled to ensure veryone is challenged at the right level and succesful in the program.
